Band Director's comments

Matt Chapman started by discussing the upcoming band trip to Washington DC. Matt is very concerned about the number of students that will as of now not be attending. We need to think about the sound and if we do not have enough of certain instruments then this will not work out. This is a decision he has had a very hard time making and we will be holding off on a final decision until November 11. Matt Chapman then went over some alternative options such as going with the Choir to New Orleans or going to perform at the Kentucky Derby Parade. We will talk with Karyn Terpstra when she gets back in town about this latest development. Next we discussed the schedule for the remainder of the Marching Band Season. Next weekend we will be having another mini band camp the students will arrive at 2pm work till 5:30 then we are going to have them all get on the busses and go out to the Sniff Farm. The have graciously offered to provide food that will be set up in the barn as well as a bonfire this will be a great opportunity for us to have fun and bond as a band before ISU the next weekend this is top secret. Senior night will be our last home game all parents of seniors as well as seniors please report to the field before halftime. We will perform then proceed to the band room to get everything loaded for ISU. We will meet at 3:30 am the next morning in the band room to finish loading and get to ISU we perform at 7am . The ticket booth will open at 6am and the gate will open at 6:30am Matt Chapman has checked on this to avoid the problems we had last year. We will perform at 7am then awards are at 10:15 am after this we will leave for home if we get first place then we will go home for a nap and come back later if not then we just go home. After ISU we have one more competition which will take place at WIU we need to leave the school by 11:15 am and we perform at 3:45pm. Anyone with kids in the school play will need to pick them up after the performance and drive them back to IVC the rest of the students will change and then enjoy the rest of the competition awards are at 9pm.
